

The Marvin J. Sonosky Chair in Law and Public Policy was made possible through the generosity of Marvin and Shirley Sonosky. The late Marvin Sonosky, Class of 1932, was a distinguished attorney in Washington, D.C. He successfully represented Native American tribes in their efforts to obtain fair and equitable treatment from the federal government. Most notable was his successful representation of the Sioux Nation in its long legal struggle to win compensation for the government's seizure of the Black Hills in 1877. This lecture, inaugurated in 1984, is dedicated to Mr. Sonosky's memory.
