List of Courses that Do Not Count Toward the Rule 3.1(b)
Classroom/Direct Instruction Learning Requirement

Revised October 23, 2018

Rule 3.1(b) requires students to satisfactorily complete at least 64 credits in courses with a sufficient classroom or direct instruction component.

Only the following categories of courses satisfy the Rule 3.1(b) requirement:

1. Courses with a LAW number in the 6xxx-7xxx range (even if a student enrolls under a different designator for a cross-listed course)
2. Courses taken at another ABA-accredited law school for which credit is awarded under Academic Rules 8.1 or 8.6
3. Foreign study in law courses or seminars if approved pursuant to Academic Rule 8.7.

The following courses with a LAW number in the 6xxx-7xxx range do not count toward the Rule 3.1(b) requirement (some courses previously counted, and are listed as not counting beginning in a particular semester):
